

CALL REQUIREMENTS

Call Title: Advanced manaGement and cOntRol for buildings smArtness: Towards a more sustainable energy and water management platform (ÁGORA). PDI Grado R1c

Contact person: José Manuel González Martín

Department: Department of Architectural Constructions and Construction and Ground Engineering

Category: ☒ Researcher

☐ Others

Workday: ☐ Full time

☒ Part time

Aim: The selected candidate will carry out functions within the Advanced management and cOntRol for buildings smArtness Project: Towards a more sustainable energy and wáter management platform (ÁGORA). The candidate will perform high-level functions of scientific technological transfer to construction companies with special needs in R&D&I in the field of energy efficiency, so that, in collaboration with construction companies, they are capable of developing projects with pilot demonstrator buildings. In order to guarantee an efficient transfer, the candidate, in addition to high scientific-technological knowledge in the field of energy efficiency, both at the diagnostic level (thermography) and intervention (constructive solutions) must know from within the reality of management construction companies, which must be reflected in their ability to manage the construction of buildings in two aspects: that referring to construction technique and that of human resources management. Regarding the construction technique, the emphasis will correspond to energy efficiency with special attention to diagnostic techniques using thermography, both carried out in situ inside and outside the buildings, as well as aerial. Regarding the management of human resources, they must be able to manage teams of people with different profiles, such as technicians and construction employees and knowledge-generating technicians

Requirements of the candidate: University degree: University degree: Degree in Law or Degree in Economic Sciences and its equivalents. Degree studies completed 5 or more years ago (R1c).

Duration: from its formalization until june 30, 2025

Gross monthly remuneration: : € 1.200

Application submission deadline: 4 days from the day after the publication of the call

Documents to be provided: Documents to be provided: • Copy of D.N.I., N.I.E. or equivalent • Curriculum Vitae of the applicant • Official academic diploma requested in the call and its translation (if issued abroad) • Working life report • Certificates, titles and other supporting documents proving alleged merits to be assessed based on the selection criteria.