

BENTELER is a global enterprise – modern and with a long history. What started out 140 years ago as a small ironmongery store in Bielefeld, Germany, is today a global group of companies engaged in the development, manufacture and marketing of safety-relevant products, systems and services for the automotive, energy and engineering sectors.

VALUES

Respect

Mutual appreciation is a key part of our day-to-day activity. Around the world we support our customers as partners and treat our employees as equals. We also show the same respect for the environment and society.

Ambition

For us, ambition means not only striving for maximum performance but also focusing on the needs of tomorrow. What we do, we do right.

Courage

Sustainable development requires courage to pursue new avenues. With openness and a keenness to learn, we always develop the optimum solution. For our customers, but also for society and the environment – with due regard for the entire value chain.
